The Presidential Nomination
Washington, D. C.—Hon. Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican National Executive Committee, announces that many candidates for the Republican nomination for president next year are entering the field for the pre-convention contest.

Among those mentioned are: former Senator Elihu Root, of New York; Senator Albert B. Cummins, of Iowa; former Governor William E. Borah, of Idaho; former Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana; former Senator Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio; Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts; Senator William Aldrich Smith, of Michigan; Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas; Senator L. Y. Sherman, of Illinois; former Governor Myron T. Herrick, of Ohio; Governor Charles S. Whitman, of New York; and H. D. Estabrook, a prominent, eloquent lawyer of New York City, who delivered the principal address at the annual meeting of the Advertising Clubs of America, held in Chicago last June.

From now on, it will be interesting to note how prominent Colored men of national reputation "line up." It is said that Hon. Charles W. Anderson, who has just been appointed Supervisory Agent of the State Agricultural Department, and Hon. Fred R. Moore, of The New York Age, appointed minister to Liberia, will ident Taft will support Governor Whitman, former Assistant Attorney General William H. Lewis, of Boston, will support Senator Weeks, Ralph W. Tyler, Auditor of the Navy Department, under Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, will support Senator Burton, while George A. Myers and Editor H. C. Smith have not yet decided whom they will support. As a rule, however, it is expected that the various colored men in the various states will support the "yellow" ones. The Southern leaders are in the candidate with "billy-white" leanings, and are already at work "sounding" the candidates.

United States in Liberian Row Washington, Oct. 26.—The African Republic of Liberia has become the center of a controversy between the Allies and Germany which has involved the United States. The little country is accused of committing violations of neutrality and the United States has sent the Cruiser Chester to Monrovia, and deemed it expedient to send a new minister, James L. Curtis, to replace George W. Buckner, who is ill.

New York, N. Y.—In the primaries conducted in New York City recently John M. Royall, a Colored candidate for alderman, won the nomination and his name appeared on the ballot in the November election. If elected to the aldermanic chair in New York City, Mr. Royall will be the first man of the race to occupy such an honorable and influential position in the city of New York. He is a leading real estate dealer and has won the confidence of the Colored people of New York as no recent political leader among them has done. He is a credit to his race.

The Common Salvation

By REV. R. A. SUTCLIFFE
Pastor, Presbyterian Church, 1014, Maple St.
Inhabitants of Chicago

TEXT—The common salvation.—John 1

Each word of this text is important.
Let us think of them, taking the last one first.

1. Salvation.—We have space to mention only a few things suggested by this word. Salvation means a saving from a disease and a restoration to health; for sin is a disease. A common salu-ation means a saving from a disease common to all. There is a similarity between this and sin. For instance: there are many so-called remedies for leprosy but none can be found to really stop its spread. The sinner too has many remedies for his sin but nothing that men can do can arrest its progress.
Again, leprosy becomes painful and detracting. Sin acts the same way.
Hence we are told that "the wicked are like the troubled sea when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt. There is no peace saith my God to the wicked." Sin begins quietly but ends, like leprosy, with bitter pain and distress. Again, leprosy is fatal to the one afflicted. It might well be called a living death. It is thus with sin. Many are today well and sound of body, but sorely afflicted by sin. As far as their souls are concerned they are in a living death. The difference between the leper and the sinner is that the former gets rid of his trouble at death, but the latter must take his pain and distress with him. But salvation means the saving from sin to perfect health. Man alone can find no cure for his sin but Christ can and has. It is found in his own blood which "cleanseth us from all sin."

In the second place salvation means a saving from punishment; for sin is a crime as well as a disease. Salvation brings to the sinner a full and free pardon for every crime against the law of God; such a pardon that every trace of the evil committed is wiped from the sinner's record. Without such salvation the punishment for each sin must fall upon the sinner.
And the punishment of sin is an awful thing; described as being torment and anguish and eternal. But in this common salvation there is found relief from all the guilt, and pardon for every crime. "Let the sinner forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts and let him return unto the Lord and he will have mercy upon him and to our God for he will abundantly pardon."

In the third place salvation means the saving from death which is the result of the disease and the reward of the crime. It means the exchanging of eternal death for eternal life. "The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." If any should acquire now this health instead of sickness, this pardon instead of guilt, and this life instead of death can be obtained, the apostle answers, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

2. Common.—The "common" salu-ation suggests its wideness and means that it is shared by all alike. God is no respecter of persons and when he provided the common salvation he provided it to be shared by all alike.
Whether white or black, moral or immoral, learned or illiterate, cultured or vulgar, all share alike in this "common" salvation. Again, this word means that the salvation is a universal thing. It is provided for every member of the human race. This is what the apostle means when he says, "whoever will call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." And, the last chapter of the Bible says, "Whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely." The common salu-ation means that which is needed by all, provided for all, brought to all and offered to all, including the reader of these lines.

3. The.—This word speaks of the narrowness of the "common" salu-ation. It is not a "salvation," but "the." It is not provided by man nor can it be. It is just here that sinners go wrong and think they can evolve some scheme whereby they can cure themselves of the disease and do enough good deeds to counterbalance the evil and so avoid the punishment due to sin. But if we would have the salvation that saves from the disease of sin, and the pardon that covers the crime of sin, we must come to the Lord, with whom salvation is to be found. "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have everlasting life." And when the Son came he was the Savior of men "he gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity; he took the sin and all its consequences, the crime and all its punishment, and gave to all who will receive it "the common salu-ation" in their place.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 14

DANIEL IN THE KING'S COURT.
LESSON TEXT—15-16, 19, 20.
GOLDEN TEXT—Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

—1 Cor. 16:13.

This familiar story has been selected for the "World's Temperance Sunday" as it is the first record of the Babylonian experiences and is an illustrative example of those everlasting principles which govern a successful life.

1. Daniel's Position, vv. 1-7. Nebuchadnezzar, on the death of his father, returned to Babylon from besieging Jerusalem to take the throne.
He carried with him Jehoiachin and a number of young men, "in whom was no blemish" (14). They were perhaps twelve years old. Among these were Daniel and his three companions. They were selected for pious training and the name of each is compounded with the name of God; Daniel's meaning—"God is my judge." They are now come to a lustrous heathen palace and are completely at the power of the king and his court. Their names are now changed; Daniel becomes Belshazzar—"Favored of God." Such changing of names is customary in most heathen or Mohammedan lands even today.
A still greater danger or temptation confronts these young men, viz., that the king appointed them "a daily portion of the king's meat" (Am. Rev. v.
9). To refuse to eat invited ridicule and perhaps loss of life, but to eat was to break the Jewish law and to forfeit (Deut. 12:23-25). See also (1 Cor. 8:7-10; 10:27-28). Their captivity had been foretold (II Kings 24:7), but a change of location and name does not involve a change of heart as many a tempted one has discovered.
These men in spite of natural appetite, danger of being thought peculiar, or even gratitude to king for lives preserved refused to eat the king's meat and to drink his wine.

2. Daniel's Purpose, 18:13. The real purpose of a man's heart not alone governs his acts but reveals what he is—God looks upon that when he judges men (II Cor. 8:7; 1:12; Luke 18:15). "Without will (purpose) there is no character" (Acts 11:23).
Daniel purposed "in his heart" not to defile "himself." No compromise, no trimming because of being away from home, no partnership with the rich and opulent court. Daniel was to be "as clean as a horse's tooth." Men who dare to stand alone always find co-operation, so Daniel found those who stood by him (v. 13). Daniel exercised great tact in his dealings with the prince of the eunuchs but God had evidenced his protecting and leading care (v. 9) enabling him to win his way and persuade the eunuchs to allow the suggested test (v. 12). If Christian workers would exercise more tact they would more frequently attain their desired ends (Luke 18:1-8).
It is possible to be so unbendingly puritanical as to lay us open to a charge of pharisaical pride. Daniel illustrates spotless purity, indefinable loyalty mingled with a sweet reasonableness that always gains its ends.
Daniel had sufficient confidence in his God and faith in his actions to be willing to be submitted to the acid test of experience. His was a religion that could stand without being tied.

3. Daniel's Profit, Revelation, vv. 14-21. Pulse denotes that vegetables as beans and peas. Their diet was to be a general vegetable one. Samson ate as a Nazirite drank no wine. This age had, yes, to drink but comprehended the reasonableness and efficacy of those ancient Jewish laws of sanctification and diet. Myriads of men are today digging their graves with their hands.
The result of this test was that Daniel and his companions were delivered from transgressing God's laws and the prince of the eunuchs from being punished because of the physical compulsion of his charges. Beauty, health, and strength came to Daniel and his friends with the result of preferment, position, and influence at court (v.
19). They "stood before the king" (Rom. 14:10-12; I Cor. 3:10-15; II Cor. 8:18); (a) because of their unswerving loyalty to God and obedience to his Word (John 14:15; 16:28 R. V.); (b) because of their life of prayer, for it is the work of the Holy Spirit to give unto us wisdom (Luke 2:15, Acts 6: 10) even as Daniel was thus blessed
(v. 17) the spirit bestows diverse gifts (I Cor. 12:1-11); (c) because of their cause having a special place in the purposes and plans of God their lives were counted precious in his sight (v.
16). Verily, "He that doeth the will of God abideth forever."

Temperance Application.—This lesson suggests the value of total abstinence.

"No user of tobacco has ever taken first honor at Harvard"—Longfellow.

Temperance and self-control must begin in the home and be perpetuated in the streets and power of God which alone comes through an intelligent knowledge and obedience of his Word. There is no way to win success except by means of a complete victory; to compromise is to fail.
The loyalty of which is not earth-born and their victories are victories made.

Miss Mattie Vale has returned from St. Louis, giving a glowing account of her pleasure there. To our surprise she came back "Miss Vale." The coming of the Argus to the homes of the Farmington people is looked forth to with joy. It is an interesting paper. When it fails to come there is a feeling of loneliness in the home, which nothing but its advent will eradicate. Do many visitors come on that day?

BELONGS TO BACKWARD CITIES AND THE DARK AGES.

It is unconstitutional and against the genius of our American scheme of government for a city, either through its legislative body or by direct vote to enact a measure restricting the place of residence of any class of its citizens on a race basis, for the reason that the American Constitution guarantees every citizen equal protection of the laws, and this protection is not given when a citizen on account of his race or color, is prohibited from residing in any part of the city where he has by purchase or contract obtained the right to occupy a dwelling. In case of contagious disease or physical nuisance, districts may be quarantined with warnings on doors or at ends of streets or by yellow flags; in case of a certain species of outlaws, red lights have been used as signals of disorder, and where the peace of the neighborhood is disturbed by riotous conduct the guilty may be punished by law, but, where well-regulated families and well-ordered homes are established it is the duty of the city to protect and have officers who will see that occupants of such places are safeguarded in home and person from injury and annoyance.

Segregation may be used to prevent the spread of contagion or for the abatement of a nuisance, or by the way of incarceration, to stop the repetition of crime or place a restraint upon contaminating intercourse, but, on no other proposition is it wise or legal to use it.

To segregate a race is to say that the race is afflicted with a contagious disease, or is incurably criminal, or its conduct is an abomination. The city blocks should not form the boundaries for race lines.

Such partitioning would put ugly blotches upon the fair face of our city, and could have no other tendency than to fill St. Louis with sink holes of squalor like the "Ghetto," the "Dago Hill," the "Kerry Patch" and the "Africa." Such places become the Sargasso Sea, the "Greasy Sea," where the water-logged and derelict of men and women live in congested conditions and form the "eyesores of our big cities.

Our dream of "The City Beautiful" will be a long time reaching fruition speckled and tarnished by such segregated spots.

Segregation means caste, like in India founded on vocation, or, in Russia, founded on religion and race, and in the United States founded on color. The Pariah in India must not even walk on the same street where the Brahmin lives much less live there. The Jew in Russia has a Jewish Pale, and, if he goes beyond its boundary for residence or for business, he is driven back like a dog. If they can segregate a Negro in a city what is to prevent the nation from segregating the entire Negro population of the United States to the swamps and alligator districts around the rim of the Gulf of Mexico.

The pending segregation measure says its object is to allay race conflicts. There are no race conflicts in St. Louis except such as may spring from individual altercations which may occur anywhere in the world. The law and officers to govern such disorders are amply sufficient. A segregation bill will initiate instead of allay race antagonism and therefore should be defeated.

Why do we want to drag the Nation back into this old maelstrom of the darkest ages and which only survives now in the semi-barbarous countries. Segregation was inflicted upon Helots, the "hereditary bondsmen" of Greece, it crowded the Plebeians of Rome into the most undesirable quarters, it forced the Israelites into Goshen from the time of Jacob down to the days of Moses, it beat back the Armenians through the barbarities of the Turks, it kept the heel of England on the neck of Ireland for centuries, it is now making civilization shudder at the horrors perpetrated upon the Jews in Russia in driving them from town to town, homeless and penniless, for 240 years segregation maintained itself in the squalid slave cabins and the lordly mansions of the master in the south. We repeat, why do we want to drag the Nation back to this condition?

Why should St. Louis emulate Louisville?

Louisville is a backward city, so is Charleston; so is Richmond and Baltimore is sitting down, having given up the struggle for industrial supremacy, and now seems more concerned in legislating how to keep the Negro down than how to keep Baltimore up. St. Louis belongs to the progressive class of cities and should emulate the great cities that are making rapid strides: such as Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and New York. These are the most advanced cities; property values are higher. They have no race segregation. Their doors are wide open to all. General education and business are blending the heterogeneous elements in their population and helping them to build the most splendid municipalities on earth.

REV WM H HARRIS

Pastor of Mt Zion Baptist Church

TABERNALE BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

By Bessie Page

Rev. S. A. Mosley, formerly of Pine Bluff, Ark., pastor of Tabernale Baptist Church, 2726 Pine St., urges the addresses of old members. Sick ones are visited by the pastor and his wife, who is very active in church work. None are slighted. Communion has been administered to them as no other pastor has done. Old Finney, oldest member in the church, 95 years old, is now sick. Mrs. Myria Belle, 85 years old, 3440 Pine Street, grandmother of John Richard Nailor, is still indisposed. She has been very active in church work and is well known. Mrs. Caroline James, 3326 Lucas (rear) is seriously ill. Mrs. Hill, 4060a Cook Avenue, improvement is very slow.

Parents, and the ones who have children, are asked to get them to morning services at 11 o'clock, where the child's very soul can be fed of the gospel and the word of God. No parents will regret it. Children do not need extra clothes for church worship. They go to school, why not to the house of God. When parents are asked to let their children go to church their excuse are often childish. While the little child and sometimes the big one, too, will run to the stranger and cling to her, anxious to go. However, the mother again will remark of the child being scorned or pushed aside because it was dressed poorly and had on the same school clothing. Children are received with welcome and are carefully attended to by members, pastor and all. The superintendent, Mr. Parker, of the Tabernale Baptist Sunday-school, asks each child to bring a child. Babies are welcome and old people, too. There are more children out of Sunday-school than are in them. Now if your children are not attending any let us know. We have a committee to get them and see them safely home again. The children had a beautiful program Sunday. They sang sweetly. The first Sunday in December they will have another musical program. The older members and young ones have so much formality that they are forgetting the children and leaving them go uncaared for, just any old place for amusement will do, is why St. Louis has such a big juvenile court. Unless something is done this city may build another larger one yet! If you are a stranger in the city, and don't know anyone to seek your children with, just ring up Madam Bessie Page, Lindell 4054, Delmar 3737, or call at 3440 Pine St. She will arrange the hour to call readily and get about them. Praying that these words will sink in some parents' hearts if not all, and may God's comforting spirit and love be upon us.

Rev. S. A. Mosley, pastor: Chas. Temple, clerk; Vergil Franklin, assistant; Miss Ada Jones, organist.

The Cook Says.

If your meat basket or clothes basket of willow shoots a loose end, put it to soak for twenty minutes or half an hour in lukewarm water.

A good way to do is to put the basket into the bathtub, resting it on the part that is to be repaired, then turn in enough water to soak the part. The important thing is to get the willow ends soft and pliable.

When this is accomplished the strips may be readily bent back into place, and if you push them in firmly, they will stay in place when dry. Never try to bend the willow strips while they are dry, as they will be sure to snap off.

A putty knife, with its short handle and broad blade, is an indispensable tool in the kitchen. It can be used for turning hash, fritters and fish. Its broad end is also most useful in scraping pots and pans.

HON. L. C. DYER Commander In Chief U. S. W. V

SPANISH WAR VETERANS
HONOR COMMANDER IN-CHIEF

At the regular monthly meeting of Corporal William L. White Camp No. 10 attached to Headquarters United Spanish War Veterans, Commander-in-Chief Hon. L. C. Dyer made his first official visit to the camp. A large number of the boys were present to honor their new commander. Mr. Dyer expressed himself pleased at the work of the camp, and paid a high tribute to the soldiery of the Colored troops. He was accompanied by his official staff. Col. William H. Butler was handed his commission as a member of Commander Dyer's staff. A few stories of camp life, and army mess were features of the evening.

SOME KITCHEN KINKS

METHODS THAT MAY BE NEW TO MANY HOUSEWIVES.

Tiles Always Best When One Can Afford Them—Keeping the Dish-cloth Fresh—Lineatum for the Floor Covering.

Tiles are so clean and nice if one is able to afford them. The young wife who has them will never regret the outlay, although they are rather expensive at the start. Round the kitchen walls they are splendid and most hygienic in every way.

The back of the sink is bound to get splashed with the washing up after each meal. Therefore here it is essential to have either tiles or stone or something of the kind through which the water cannot penetrate. Zinc answers the purpose quite well if securely nailed flat against the wall. This is usually cleaned daily with a little dry brickdust.

The tiles, of course, are ideal, as all they need is a washdown with warm water daily. A little enamel basket is no useful in the sink for tea leaves and such things which are more than likely to go down the sink and eventually stop it up. It is shaped so that it fits into the corner of the sink, perforated with holes, so that all liquid passes away, leaving the solid bodies in the basket.

Nothing is more unpleasant than a greasy dishcloth. To keep this important article fresh and sweet, it should be scalded each time after use, or else washed out thoroughly in hot water and rinsed well in several waters.

A plate rack fixed above the sink is a great saving of labor. Plates put in the rack must be rinsed in cold water after being washed in hot, if you do not want them to be smudged.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my dear husband, Fred L. Lillard, who departed this life, November 11, 1914.

I often sit and think of you when all alone.
For memory is the only thing that grief can call its own.
Though my heart with grief is broken.

And my lips with sorrow dumb.
Faithful is the promise spoken.
Resurrection day will come.
And the beloved one that was taken,
I shall to life and love awaken.
For our dear one is sleeping till the resurrection morn.

Sadly missed by wife,
Mrs. Ida M. Lillard.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear, beloved husband, John A. Bridgford, who departed this life one year ago, November 9, 1914.

One year ago you left me,
How I miss you, dear!
And remember all your kindness,
As I drop a silent tear.
And now you calmly sleep at last,
All grief, all pain, all suffering past.
Good, loving you, did think it best
To take you to eternal rest.

Sadly missed by your loving wife, Harnett Bridgford.

CUT YOUR HAIR BILLS IN HALF

You can cut your hair bills in half by buying your hair goods from me. People often ask how it is possible for me to give such good values for so little money. The reason is simple: I am a direct maker to agent and dealer, which plan leaves out all middlemen and their profits.

My large production cuts down the cost of manufacturing and selling direct to agents and dealers cut down selling costs. I have no salesmen to whom I must pay a salary and expenses.

Each article is made of the finest quality of hair and the workmanship is the very best.

Become my agent and cut the cost of your merchandise and make the profit yours.

BRIGHT-SMITH PLAYERS
SCORE HIT IN DRAMA

The Bright-Smith Players at the Booker Washington Theater this week are scoring a decided hit in a serious drama, entitled "Our Father." The plot abounds in domestic difficulties, thrilling surprises and dramatic turns. There is neither singing nor dancing, but the intense interest created by the play makes one forget these. There are nine members in the company. Joe Bright, as Father, is an ideal actor of rare ability. Nippy Speedy Smith keeps up the comedy.

The other members play their parts well and the presentation is worth going miles to see.

Next week the company will present a comedy entitled, "The Insult." There will be plenty of singing and dancing.

DAINTY THERESA BOROUGH-BROOKS

This little lady, a real favorite here, is a member of the Bright-Smith Players showing at the Booker Washington this week. The play, "Our Father," is a creation of her late husband, a St. Louisan, Marion A. Brooks. Brooks will be well remembered for his amateur days with the old Dumas Dramatic Club.

Mrs. Brooks is a delightful song and dance artist and we will see her at her best next week in the comedy, "The Insult."

TESTIMONIALS

Major's Oxford Toilet.

To whom it may concern:

Before I saw your advertisement in the St. Louis Argus, I was like a ship without a captain. I knew enough about hair work to earn a living but not enough to pass an examination before a college of hair culture. When I was asked, where I learned my "beauty treatments," I would shiver in my boots because I had no Oxford College to back me up. But now I am a graduate of the Oxford System and find all of my customers so well pleased, I am gaining new customers every day and must thank you again, I beg to remain,

Yours truly,

Elizabeth Friess, Your Agent, 49th and 31st St., New York City.

Major's Oxford College, St. Louis, Mo.

To whom it may concern: With many thanks for meeting the name of Oxford College, I will say that I have had some dealings with white colleges in the city of Chicago but find in the Oxford College more pleasure and better understanding than any of the others I have dealt with.

In truth I find pleasure in my work for the simple reason, your preparations have given me much satisfaction and when I am pleased with the results, I know my customers must be—at least I have found it so—so far.

I trust to be successful. Elizabeth Friess, Your Agent, 1540 Pratt Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

If you desire to know how business you shall follow to be successful, where you shall go and whom to avoid if you intend to make any kind of money to start a business, buy or sell property, or in fact, take any important step, don't fail to consult W. L. Gladstone. His advice may be the means of saving you thousands of dollars and a great deal of trouble.

LOVE, COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE.

It affords of the heart or emotions of love interest you, he gives the exact and truthful revelations of all love affairs, selfish lovers' quarrels, enables you to win the esteem and affection of anyone you desire, causes speedy and happy marriages; tells if the one you love is true; also date of marriage; restores lost affection, peace and confidence to lovers and dissatisfied families; gives you the full secret how to control passions and charm the one you love; also those you meet, and how to make a person love you, and think you are a Love Attendant. NOTE—These calling for pastimes, serious and frivolous persons are only waiting time calling on Prof. Gladstone. Strangely fascinating are the words that come from the cultivated lips of this most interesting man whose journey of life has already taken him through all the renowned schools of Egypt, India and Europe. It seems, indeed, as if his knowledge must come from that mysterious world, the dim way which no man yet fathoms, cannot know. He looks far away into the future, and tells you the great beyond—across the dark chain which binds body and human mind, the fitting soul and that which is to be told.
